Decision On Status Of Musgrove Building Due

JUNE 7. The Musgrove building looked like this on June 7 following the collapse of the roof and broken water lines shortly after 1 p.m.

'Grace' Period To Expire On Friday

A decision on the future of the Musgrove building may be forthcoming within the week.

A meeting of local officials Tuesday resulted in requesting legal opinion from Atty. Alfred L. Daniels, assistant town counsel, as to what steps can be taken to correct the situation which has closed off business in the building and pedestrian traffic around it in Elm Square since June 7.

The roof collapsed on that date breaking water pipes and shutting off power in the building. All businesses have been closed since that date and most unable to relocate.

The overall problem was discussed Tuesday by Robert A. Waters, chairman of the board of selectmen, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, and the board of survey which made recommendations to the owner, Samuel Resnik almost a month ago.

The board of survey, composed of Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton, Town Engineer John Avery, a state building inspector and Building Inspector Arthur Peatman, examined the building and made recommendations as to necessary repairs which must be made before occupancy can be authorized.

Among the recommendations is repair of the roof and strengthening of the walls.

The owner was given 30 days to make arrangements for the repairs. The 'grace' period expires Friday, July 17, with no apparent work having been done, with the exception of a crane being brought in to remove the rubble and debris from the roof section which collapsed.

Town Manager Austin said that some definitive action would probably be taken the first of the week in order to make the area safe for pedestrian travel.

The area is still roped off due

JULY 15. The Musgrove building remains closed with no repair work apparently having been done and the area still roped off to pedestrian traffic due to the threat of falling brick.

Central Station To Become Youth Center

The Central fire station will become a youth drop-in center when the firefighters move out.

The selectmen Monday night gave permission for such use on a temporary basis after presentation of the proposal by Recreation Director Leslie Bartow who told the board his department had been looking for such a facility for some time.

Bartow was supported by James Carroll, who directs the Student Activity Center at the high school.

Carroll noted that SAC does not meet a total need, since many young people do not participate in athletic activities, thus the summer social activity does not extend to all beyond dances.

He said there was a need for a location for meeting social behavior problems, such as discussion of drugs, etc.

Robert Loffredo of the Youth Involvement Committee, told the selectmen that the center would be sort of a "melting pot" where the young people could gather, bring in speakers on drugs, sensitivity and other subjects and serve coffee and soft drinks.

The building would be used evenings and Sundays and maintained by the youths, he said.

While it was requested to be used up to 11 p.m., since the young people have no place to go from 10 to 11 p.m., the selectmen set the time limit at 10 p.m. Both Selectmen Sidney P. White

Combined Observance Is Urged

Some selectmen would like to combine the 325th anniversary program, scheduled for next year with the Fourth of July observance, but it will remain up to the committees to resolve the issue.

Monday night the board discussed both proposals, with Selectman George Heseltine strongly in favor of combining the events in 1971.

In the process the Andover Service club was commended by the selectmen for the excellent job they did in conducting the town's first Fourth of July observance last week. The club volunteered to run the observance.

Heseltine felt that the $5,000 appropriated for the anniversary observance could be combined with

Presented High Award

Joshua L. Miner

The American Academy of Achievement of Dallas, Texas, has presented its highest award to an Andover educator.

On June 27, Joshua L. Miner, President of Outward Bound, Inc., was honored by the Academy with its Golden Plate Award. Since the Academy's inception in 1961, it has presented this award to only a limited number of national leaders in the sciences, professions, industry, arts, and public service, honoring them as "representatives of the many who excel."

The honor was bestowed on Miner for his excellent work in establishing the national experiential educational school system known as Outward Bound. As one of fifty recipients of this award, Miner traveled to Dallas to accept the presentation and to explain that he will continue to work in vital

Artist Contributes

George Rogers, an Andover artist contributed his idea of how to visually improve the city at an exhibit located in Boston City Hall.

The exhibit was sponsored by the Institute of Contemporary Art, entitled "Boston Artists Project 70", and showed over 100 models designed by artists and architects relating to small-scale projects which can be carried out in the inner city and its neighborhoods.

Rogers submitted his idea for playground equipment; other models included billboard designs by artists, sculpture for parks, a movable fountain which can be plugged into neighborhood fire hydrants.

Allagash River Reflections

(This report is a compilation of the thoughts and reflections of the students and teachers who recently trekked the Allagash River in Maine under the sponsorship of the school department.)

The first few thoughts that come to mind while reflecting on the Maine woods ...

"Must we leave?" "It was so beautiful." "I'm coming back again soon ... very soon."

No, not the solitude not the scenic splendor, but rather the success measured by the above reactions. To put into words the feelings and thoughts of all the young people on the trip would be difficult as each student's diary contained different points of interest. They proved themselves capable of living in the woods under strict self imposed limitations. Canoes presented no problems as the students acclimated quickly and became better than average canoeists. Most important they functioned as a group and worked together in a most commendable manner. They carried each other along through each changing day and never once did a difference of opinion halt or slow down our progress. Through each student the goals set at the trip's initiation were realized at least in part. The changing attitudes and sensitivity developed could be considered the most lasting results.

Each day brought another revelation another chance to put our expanding experience to the test. The trip was physically demanding in a sporadic way. An average distance of 10 to 15 miles a day may seem like a good day's paddling but, these days soon were matter of fact. It was the 23 and 25 mile days, the three and one half mile carry, 3 hours of white water, that left hearts pounding with exhaustion. Even with these tests to go through, the aching muscles often had to take a back seat to the majesty and beauty surrounding us. The chance to put the paddle down and look around came often. Never were we disappointed with what we saw ... Only when the infractions of society showed through, did the group turn away a little sorry that even this vast wilderness must be littered, and used thoughtlessly by people.

To pick out some of the high points would take more than twice the length of this already longer than planned article. Maybe so much to look back on adds to the long windedness of my thoughts, however I must tell about the following or forever feel that I short changed you.

The West Branch of the Penobscot River and Chesuncook Lake will leave no doubts that logging is still a big industry in Maine. We paddled through logs for 20 miles and ended the river riding on the back of a logging company boat through 100 acres of logs. We saw enough paper pulp and logs to keep the TOWNSMAN going forever.

The streams and ponds surrounding Allagash Lake and the lake itself can be considered the most rewarding part of any trips to this area. To really feel the Maine woods one should make a stop-over on Allagash Lake, however be prepared to carry or drag your canoe for many miles. There is an alternative if the budget permits the hiring of a plane to fly in to a local pond and paddle from there. Allagash streams will keep you on your toes for a good 5 miles and finally, Chamberlain Lake can be as rough as the ocean on most days. These all came even before entering the Allagash River. They could be the making of an enjoyable week long trip.

The second part of our trip brought us across the larger lakes in this area. Typical of the understatement so common to the Maine people a lake is nothing short of the Quabbin Reservoir here in Mass. Large, long and rough when the wind blows, they present a unique challenge to the pond and stream canoeist of our local area.

"Chase's Carry!" I hope we can handle it."

Handle it we did, fortunately with no unplanned swims. This is the beginning of the Allagash River and the 8 miles of rips, shallows and several drops at the beach end leaves even the best breathing easier at the head of Umbagog Lake. Before taking a trip to this area be aware of your capabilities in a canoe and if it's possible put some white water experience under your belt. For many people their trips have been marred or even ended as a result of inexperience. The river from here widens into ponds and lakes for another 15 miles.

Back into a narrow river the next stop is Allagash Falls.

A carry around the falls and some time to think brings the realization that your trip is only a day or two from ending. It is with this in mind that you soak in as much beauty as you can find in the next 15 or so miles. Soon a highway bridge looms up and the town of Allagash will find you walking around looking for a telephone or searching for a way to escape back into the wilderness you have just left. A short but rewarding, and in places, challenging, paddle in the St. John River brings you to St. Francis. To say you are in Maine and Canada is across the river is untrue for the ethnic borderline crosses many miles south of Fort Kent. Soon you pick out a French accent that you can understand and there is no lack of transportation for your canoes and gear.

The trip down Rte. 11 is worth the effort for it leaves you some time to become adjusted waiting at home. Would we want to do it again? Yes.

Will we do it again? "God willing, definitely!"

Immigrants were paid 12 1/2 cents per hour for working on new sewer in 1898. Experts received 13 1/2 cents per hour.

Ronald J. Berardi Named Dean At College

Ronald J. Berardi of Andover, who was recently awarded a master's degree in business administration from Northeastern University, will become assistant dean of administration at Massachusetts' newest junior college, Bryant-McIntosh Junior College in Lawrence, July 1.

Mr. Berardi studied for his master's degree under a full fellowship and was director of the Student Personnel Office and assistant to the dean of the College of Business Administration.

In his new position at Bryant-McIntosh Junior College, he will be director of housing, part-time programs and a new co-operative plan of education whereby students alternate periods of study and paid work experience.

The new junior college offers programs in business, aviation, secretarial administration and other related fields, leading to the associate degree.

A native of Malden, Mr. Berardi is married to the former Janice Trabucco and is the son of Joseph A. Berardi of Malden.

Mr. Berardi also holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from Northeastern.

He and his wife reside at 12 Riverina Road, Andover.

A Diplomatic Visit

Betsy Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Young, 25 Coolidge Road, was a recent visitor to Washington, D.C. with a friend from the Philippines.

Under the sponsorship of the Boston Council for International Visitors, Inc., Miss Young visited with Miss Filipinas Naldo of the Philippines, who returned with her to Andover to spend some time here and visit historic spots as well as resort areas.

Miss Naldo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose A. Naldo and Mr. Naldo is a labor attaché in the Nation's Capitol.

Programmed events during the week of June 22-29 included a guided tour of the White House, a special tour of the state department where they met with former Astronaut Michael Collins, a barbecue and swimming party and a guided tour of the Capitol. They also visited with Senator Edward W. Brooke.

Following the week in Washington, in which Miss Naldo's brother also participated, the two girls came to Andover for another week together. They made visits to many historic locations in the Greater Boston area and also spent time at the beach.

Miss Naldo returned to Washington, July 6.

Betsy will enter her sophomore year at Andover High school in September.

A graduate of Andover East Junior High school, she wants to be a language major. She was the recipient of the D.A.R. Good Citizenship award at the school where she was president of the Latin club and a member of the French club.

Elks Petition Is Studied

Some opposition was registered before the Zoning Board of Appeals last Thursday night to a petition by the Andover Lodge of Elks for a special permit to use Fieldstone's restaurant as a private, non-profit clubhouse.

The Elks have been in negotiations with Edward Romeo, owner of Fieldstone's, and plan to take over the premises at a cost of $125,000.

The restaurant is still operating and will continue to do so until at least sometime in September, according to Mr. Romeo.

The Elks, now located in the rear of a building on Park Street, plan to use the building as their quarters and plan an addition to the building, which the board of appeals granted to the present owner a year ago.

Opposition came from some neighbors, who questioned the effect on property valuation in the area, should the club locate there.

Several persons spoke in favor of the petition.

Atty. Gerald M. Lewis represented the Elks.

The board voted to take the matter under advisement and also to view the property before making a decision.

Four other petitions were heard and taken under advisement by the board.

Indian Ridge Country Club sought a variance and special permit to develop for homes some 130 acres of its property in the vicinity of Blood, Lovejoy and Dascomb roads.

Pesco Realty Trust, 21 White St., Haverhill, requested a variance to sell a parcel of land at 92-94 Haverhill St., to Fred Gridley of Stirling St.

Roy R. Farr, 15 Sagamore Drive, petitioned for a variance to allow an existing foundation to remain at the address.

John P. Shay, 432 Winthrop Ave., North Andover, asked for a variance to allow an apartment on a second floor dwelling at 34 Summer St.

Loan Approved

Shawsheen Chemical Co., Millstream Industrial Park, Ballardvale, has been granted a $25,000 participation loan from the Small Business Administration for plant improvement.

The firm employs seven people in its operations.

The loan was approved in June according to Arthur J. Glick, acting regional director for the SBA's Boston regional office.

Voting Location Is Changed

The Precinct one voting place may be changed for the two state elections coming up in September and November.

If the Central fire station is demolished, the voters will move to the William A. Doherty, or Central school, where booths will be set up in the corridor between the kindergarten section and the upper classrooms.

Voters had been casting ballots at the fire station, but with its planned abandonment, despite summer use by youngsters, plans were made by Town Clerk Eldon R. Salter to use the school facilities.

West Parish Wins Again

The West Parish A basketball team, a member of the Andover Church Basketball League, Junior Division chalked up its 46th win in the past 47 games this week when it edged a team of Westford All-Stars, 42-39, in a game at the Andover high school gym.

West A, league champions for two of the past three seasons and holders of an 18-game winning streak during the 46-1 stretch, was winning its third non-league game of the year. Previous victories came at the expense of the Lowell YMCA All-Stars (33-30) and the Lawrence JCC team (38-9).

The Westford All-Star team was composed of boys age 14-15, while the West Parish A team had boys ages 10-13 on its roster.

Keith and Glenn Verrette were the big offensive sparkplugs for the victors, scoring 16 and 13 points respectively. Bill Alexander chipped in with five points, Dave Vivian hooped four points, Barry Bronson swished two points and Steve Wilkins added two markers for the winners.

Tom Stirling of Westford took game-high honors with 22 points. Tim Woodward flipped in 10 points, Junior Rieu four points and Wayne Zwicker three points for the losers.

West Parish A characteristically started slow. Westford led 8-3 after the first period. West Parish came back to tie the score 15-15 at the half. West Parish led 27-25 after three periods. The winners opened up the biggest lead of the game, 41-33, with two minutes left and then coasted to victory.

After the ice-cold opening period, the hot-handed shooting of the Verrettes and Bill Alexander pulled West Parish back into the game. Wilkins added his two free throws at the buzzer signalling the half, to make it 15-15.

A pair of beautiful driving, under-handed lay-ups by Dave Vivian, which were neatly set-up by feeds from Glenn Verrette, highlighted the third period.

Good work under the boards by Keith Verrette, Barry Bronson, Mark deConstant and Wilkins also helped.

Glenn Verrette unloaded a pair of 30-foot bombs from the corner, and Keith Verrette dominated the boards and dropped in 10 fourth period points, as West Parish pulled away in the final quarter.

Only the consistent shooting of Stirling kept the Westford Stars alive.

Tom Duffy, Tim Brownlie and Mark Conlon turned in excellent defensive play for West Parish at their guard posts.

Evidence of the closeness of the game was the fact that the score was tied eight times at 13-13, 15-15, 18-18, 20-20, 23-23, 25-25, 29-29 and 30-30 along the way. The biggest spread was West Parish's eight point, 41-33 bulge in the final canto.

The teams played 28 minutes of stop time.

The West Parish A club will try to protect its 46-1 record with several other outside games against All-Star teams from surrounding towns this summer.

Fee Charged
For Visits

The directors of the North Andover Historical Society have announced that a fee of fifty cents per person will be collected from visitors to the Society's properties at 153 Academy Road and 179 Osgood St., beginning Sunday, July 5. Members of the North Andover Historical Society will continue to be admitted free.

Receipts from admission fees will help underwrite the Society's maintenance costs at each of its properties.

At the Society's 153 Academy Road headquarters, the custodian guides visitors through the exhibits and interprets the many artifacts.

A trained guide also escorts visitors through the Parson Barnard House at 179 Osgood St. and identifies the antiques which serve as furnishings for the eighteenth-century dwelling.

Both properties are open Sunday afternoons between 1 and 5 p.m.

Commander
Caswell Assigned

Commander John H. Caswell, USNR, former commanding officer of the United States Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, Providence, R.I. has been assigned as Commanding Officer, Division 1-17 (L) at the Lawrence Naval and Marine Corps Training Center, Lawrence, Massachusetts.

Commander Caswell relieved Commander William Bransfield during "Change of Command" ceremonies conducted at the training center June 22 and has assumed his duties as of July 1, 1970.

Upon graduation from the Mass. Maritime Academy in 1952, CDR. Caswell entered active duty as Ensign, receiving his commission in September, 1952.

From 1952 to 1954 he served aboard the USS Andromeda (AKA-15) where he served as Assistant Boat Group Commander.

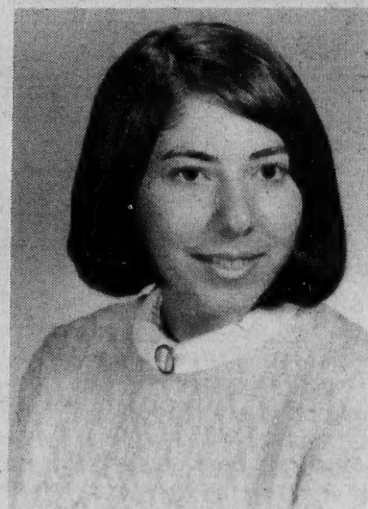

Assigned to the USS Markab (AD-21) thru the remainder of 1954, he assumed the duties of Navigator in Charge.

Released to inactive duty in 1954, Commander Caswell affiliated with the Lowell Naval Reserve Training Center, Division 1-19, serving as Executive and Commanding Officer from 1961 to 1964.

Returning to active duty in April of 1968 with the Training and Administration Reserve Program (TAR) he served as Commanding Officer of the Rhode Island Training Center until his release to inactive duty in April 1970.

Commander Caswell, an engineer with the New England Telephone Co., Framingham, is married to the former Virginia Kehoe of Lawrence. They reside in Andover with their two children, Jane 15 and Beth age 6.

Andover Playhouse, now an office building, opened for the showing of first run movies in January, 1918.

Miss Rosemary Adornato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adornato, 2 Wagon Wheel Road has received a scholarship from the Cardinal Cushing College in Brookline for her sophomore term.

The Senior 'Stars' advanced into the semi-finals last weekend by edging Chelmsford Lupien, 2-1, in eight innings behind the brilliant three-hit hurling of Dave Rice.

The Andover American and National Little League All-Star teams have yet to see their first District 14 action. Andover American is slated to face North Reading tomorrow night (5:45 p.m.) at the South School Field in Ballardvale, while Andover National tangles with the winner of the Lowell Callery-Billerica American contest on Saturday night (5:45 p.m.) at the Playstead diamond.

Andover - Chelmsford -- The timely hitting of Mark Sweetser and the hustle of speedster Chuck Barr helped Andover win its first test.

But the name of the game is pitching, and Rice was almost perfect. He limited Chelmsford Lupien to one infield single over the first six innings, walked just one man and fanned six over the eighth inning route.

His mound opponent, Ken Shamas, also did a fine job. He allowed just six hits (three of the infield variety), while walking four Andover hitters and whiffing five.

The Andover Senior Stars, managed jointly by Charlie Barr and Mike Sweetser, jumped right out to a 1-0 lead with an unearned run in the bottom of the first inning.

With two out, Charlie Wiggs beat out an infield toppler to third. He took second base on a bad throw by third baseman Mike McLarney, and then raced home when Rice drilled a sharp single to centerfield.

Rice held complete mastery over the Chelmsford Lupien batters until the seventh inning. Up until that time he hadn't allowed a runner past second base, and on three separate occasions he retired the side in order.

But in the seventh, Gerry Daley led off with an opposite-field, bloop double down the rightfield line. Rice bore down to whiff Bill Marcella on a floating change-up, and then induced Steve Hoffman to ground out briskly to Wiggs at shortstop.

Then, only one out away from a shutout, Rice misplayed a pick-off attempt at second and threw the ball into centerfield. By the time John Jolie had retrieved the ball and heaved it in, Daley had romped home to tie the count 1-1.

Shamas put the Andover side down in order in the bottom of the seventh to force the game into extra innings.

Rice surrendered a one-out single to Bruce Rich in the Chelmsford Lupien eighth, but averted trouble by getting the next two batters easily.

Chuck Barr started the Andover eighth with a walk. He then stole second on the first pitch to Mark Sweetser, and scampered home with the winning run when Sweetser looped an RBI single to right centerfield.

The only other serious threat came in the Andover fifth. Pat Doyle led with a walk. Chuck Barr pushed a perfect bunt toward the shortstop and beat it out for a single.

With the runners at first and second and no one out, Mark Sweetser banged into a force play to cut down Doyle at third. Wiggs then lined into a double play to end the "rally."

Chelmsford Lupien never mounted any threats. Rice, relying mainly on a sharp-breaking curve, faced 27 men - only three over the limit.

Both John Jolie and Wiggs were defensive standouts for Andover. Jolie rambled all over his centerfield post to pull down four fly balls, while Wiggs made six assists and two putouts at short.

Andover-Billerica -- In a wild-and-wooly, seesaw battle at Billerica, Andover's Senior Stars were knocked out of the single-elimination tourney.

Andover trailed 5-0 and 6-2 at different points in the game. But the locals rallied for six runs in the fifth inning to pull ahead, 8-6. Then Billerica surged back with three markers in the sixth to clutch victory from defeat.

An excellent relief stint by Bobby Miller sparked Billerica National. Miller came on in the sixth with his club ahead, 9-8, and overpowered Andover for two frames. He faced the minimum of six men, striking out the first five and getting the sixth on a tapper back to the mound.

There were men on base and threats in every inning for both sides. Billerica National took a 1-0 lead in the top of the second. Jim Joyce led off with a walk against Andover starting and losing hurler Charlie Wiggs. Joyce stole second and went to third on a wild pitch.

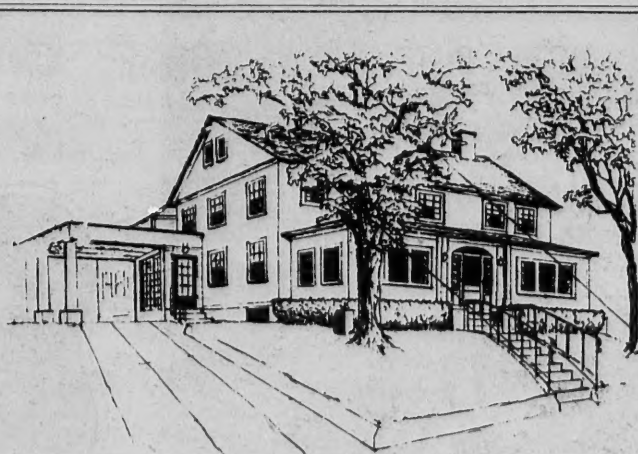

Successive walks to Joe Azarian and Walt Pease loaded the bases with two men out, and then Joyce scored on a wild pitch. Wiggs avoided further trouble by getting Miller to pop out to Chuck Barr at second base.

Billerica made it 5-0 in the fourth. Singles by Ralph Hallenborg, Azarian and Miller loaded the bases with one out. Billy Russell then cleared the sacks with a three-run triple, and he scored the fifth run on a passed ball.

Andover began to battle back in the bottom of the fourth. With two out, consecutive walks to Jeff Alexander, John Christopher and Chucky Barr loaded the bases. Mark Sweetser ripped a single to center to score two runs, but Barr was cut down on a relay throw to third to end the inning.

Billerica made it 6-2 in the top of the fifth with an unearned run. Wiggs retired the first two batters, but then Hallenborg

To Honor the Memory of Mary S. Angus

In order to honor the memory of Mary S. Angus, outstanding citizen and long-time general manager of the Andover Consumers Cooperative, the board of directors of the CO-OP has decided to establish the "Mary S. Angus Memorial Scholarship."

This scholarship is to be awarded to that Andover High School senior who best displayed extraordinary thoughtfulness of others as exemplified by Miss Angus in her lifetime of service to the townspeople of Andover.

It is hoped that numerous Andover citizens will want to participate in building this fund. The number of participants is just as significant as the number of dollars received. Any amount from a dollar up is welcome.

Here is an opportunity which bridges the generations. It honors the memory of an esteemed elder citizen by recognizing and rewarding thoughtfulness among our young.

Checks should be made payable to Mary S. Angus Memorial Scholarship and mailed to 68 Main St., Andover.

Cash donations may be left at the store.

All contributions will be gratefully acknowledged.

reached on an infield error and stole second. He rode home on Azarian's single.

Andover rebounded with six runs in the bottom of the fifth, sending 11 men to the plate and chasing a pair of Billerica National pitchers.

Producing the six-run outburst were walks to Wiggs and Rice, a single by Steve Robinson, a walk to John Jolie, a pair of balks for two runs, another walk to Dave Sweetser, a two-run single by Jeff Alexander and a double by Mark Sweetser.

Unable to enjoy prosperity, Andover lost the game in the top of the sixth. Wiggs retired the first two batters easily. But he then hit a wild streak that spelled his downfall. He walked Biff Higgins, and then hit Kevin Gearin and Bill Thresher to load the bases. Two more free passes to Johnny Mullen and Hallenborg tied the game 8-8.

Steve Robinson came on in relief, but he walked Azarian to force in Thresher with the winning run. So Billerica National netted three runs without benefit of a hit.

Although Robinson set Billerica down 1-2-3 in the seventh, Bobby Miller was completely handcuffing the Andover 'Stars' in the sixth and seventh.

Mark Sweetser paced Andover's seven-hit attack with two doubles and a single. Other singles were added by Wiggs, Rice, Robinson and Alexander.

Although Andover played both games away from home, there was a healthy contingent of local fans on hand for each contest.

The Andover Senior Little League now returns to the business of completing its regular season. The unbeaten Indians have already sewed up the American League crown, while the Cubs have the National League title wrapped up. Their playoff for the Senior L.L. Town Championship is slated for the near future.

The Andover National line-up was not known at TOWNSMAN presstime.

Employment Survey Due

The Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment and unemployment in this area during the week of July 19, James W. Turbitt, Director of the Bureau's regional office in Boston announced today.

The households to be interviewed here are part of a scientifically designed sample that is representative of the entire U.S. population. The employment and unemployment statistics are collected monthly by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the Nation as a whole and of its major regions. Questions on employment similar to those in the sample survey were asked of the entire population in the 1970 decennial census, now being compiled. Bureau officials point out, however, that the monthly survey is essential as the source of current employment data.

Facts supplied by individuals participating in the survey are kept confidential and the results are used only to compile statistical results. The law safeguarding the privacy of the individual applies to all information collected by the Census Bureau.

Frishman Promoted By Firm

Jerome S. Augustine has been elected president of Reid-Meredith, Inc., and Dr. Daniel Frishman has been named vice president-operations, according to an announcement this week by the company's board of directors. Reid-Meredith, Inc., with offices in New York, Lawrence, and Montreal, is the world's largest manufacturer of synthetic wigs and hairpieces.

Mr. Augustine, replacing Walter P. Kuentler, whose resignation became effective June 26, has been a member of the executive committee of the Reid-Meredith board of directors, and will continue, also, in that capacity.

An investment banker who has been associated as founder, treasurer, director, and consultant, with a number of companies in the venture capital field, Augustine is also president of Cosmos Securities, Inc., of New York, an American arm of a privately owned Swiss bank.

He is a graduate of Harvard University and of the Harvard School of Business Administration.

As vice president-operations, Dr. Frishman will assume responsibility for all sales, manufacturing, and research and development functions of the company.

The inventor of the patented process used by Reid-Meredith in the manufacture of its wigs, Frishman holds additional patents in the fields of chemistry and textile production. He was the founder of Fibresearch, Inc., where he developed new products and acted as consultant to companies manufacturing these products.

Dr. Frishman has been associated with Reid-Meredith since the company was founded. Until his election as vice president-operations, he was Reid-Meredith's technical advisor in charge of research and development and was instrumental in establishing the company's manufacturing operations.

Dr. Frishman, who resides in Andover, is a school committee member and was former chairman of

Leaver Named President Of Salada

E. Mard Leaver, chairman of the board of Salada Foods, Ltd., has announced the appointment of
William M. Wilbur as president,
Salada Foods, Inc., United States.
George H. Strath was appointed vice president, secretary-treasurer at the same board meeting.

Mr. Wilbur joined Salada Foods,
Inc. in May, 1968, as general manager and was promoted to vice president and general manager in Aug., 1969. Prior to joining Salada he was associated with Colgate-Palmolive Company with administrative and management assignments in the marketing area. He is a graduate of Dartmouth and Amos Tuck School.

sitions.

The Federal Wage Garnishment law, effective July 1, 1970, limits the amount of an employee's disposable earnings which may be made subject to garnishment, and it protects him from discharge because of garnishment for any one indebtedness. The Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division is responsible for the enforcement of this law.

Exceptional Youngsters Begin Work

It was graduation day at the John T. Berry Rehabilitation Center in North Reading. And it was beautiful.

A local high school band struck up the chords of "Pomp and Circumstance" and as the 90 young men and women filed past to receive their certificates there was more than one moist-eyed parent in the gathering.

It sounds like the description of a normal graduation exercise. But there was a difference.

The students, ranging from the age of 16 to 26 years, who received their certificates at this ceremony, are mentally retarded.

At the center, graduations, usually referred to as program completion exercises are held in May. They signify that the mentally retarded young person is now able to take his position in the outside world.

Most of this year's graduates have already started their new jobs, according to Delilah Riemer,

M.D., director. Seventy of them, she said, are working in competitive employment, seven will work in sheltered workshops, seven have gone on to further training and six have achieved their highest level of social development.

Thanks to the center many young persons who might have become a burden on the state instead have become self supporting, self respecting citizens.

The success story of a large number of the 590 youths who have graduated from the six-year-old center is heart warming. Former students of the center are today working on a variety of jobs such as kitchen workers, carpenter's helpers, laundry workers, groundskeeper helpers, assembly workers, housekeepers and custodians.

The students, whose stay at the center averages 18 months, are carefully evaluated to determine the job best suited to their aptitudes and skills. They have an opportunity to choose training in one of several different fields, for the center is provided with well equipped workshops, school rooms, a miniature supermarket and a beauty salon.

Besides vocational training, social development and team work is also emphasized. Recreational activities for the students are not forgotten and this part of the program includes games, dances, parties, picnics, bowling, swimming, field trips and other indoor and outdoor activities.

The center's elegant Georgian buildings lying amidst 115 acres of wooded lands, once the site of a public health tuberculosis sanatorium, provide a serenely beautiful backdrop.

Speakers at this year's graduation pointed out that many achievements of the center were accomplished because of the combined efforts of the students, parents and staff. But, they also singled out Dr. Riemer in lauding her for working "zealously and unsparingly to make the center such a success."

The John T. Berry Rehabilitation Center is one of two such centers operated by the Department of Mental Health. Students come from the area in eastern Massachusetts covering five Regions from the northernmost tip of the Commonwealth to the Cape. The other facility is Rutland Heights Mental Health Rehabilitation Center in Rutland.

RECEIVES MEDAL. U.S. Air Force Captain John K. Twigg (right), of Andover, receives the Bronze Star Medal at Norton AFB, Calif., from Brigadier General R.A. Duffy, deputy for re-entry systems, Space and Missile Systems Organization.

Capt. Twigg Decorated

U. S. Air Force Captain John K. Twigg, son of Mrs. Helen S. Twigg, who resides on Walker Road, North Andover, has been decorated with the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service while engaged in military operations against Viet Cong forces as a detachment commander at Phu

Bai Army Installation, Vietnam.

Captain Twigg was presented the medal at Norton AFB, Calif., where he now serves as a development engineer in the office of the deputy for reentry systems, Space and Missile Systems Organization. His unit is part of the Air Force Systems Command which manages research and development of USAF aerospace systems.

A 1956 graduate of Punchard High school, the captain earned his B.S. degree in general engineering in 1960 from Lowell Institute of Technology where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. Captain Twigg also holds an M.S. degree in industrial management from the University of North Dakota.

His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Packer of 71 Hampstead St., Methuen.

The captain's father, John E. Twigg, lives on Harding St.

Cited For Achievement

A Dartmouth College freshman from Andover has been cited by a professor of physics for outstanding academic achievement during the past term.

Bruce E. Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Alexander of 80 Chestnut St., was cited for "an outstanding computer project analyzing the shift of the Perihelion of Mercury."

In a letter from Albert I. Dickerson, Dean of Freshmen, Mr. Alexander was told that faculty citations are sparingly given, and that they become a part of each man's permanent record at Dartmouth.

Mr. Alexander is a 1969 graduate of Andover High school.

The advanced training is given to improve the skills and knowledge of persons involved in the emergency handling of sick and injured persons.

Leadbetter has served as instructor in several standard, advanced, and instructors' courses in American Red Cross First Aid offered to employees of the Merrimack Valley Works.

Dr. William R. MacAusland, Jr., Boston orthopaedic surgeon, was chairman of the committee of Boston area physicians directing the course.

Settlement Under Study

A request for settlement of land taking off Lowell street for school purposes was tabled by the selectmen this week.

John M. and Elizabeth W. Forbes, who own 2.47 acres of land have been offered $740 for the property which accompanies several acres voted to be taken from Harry Axelrod.

The Forbes, in a communication to the town manager, have requested $1,000 for the land.

Selectman Sidney P. White felt the request was reasonable and also economical since it would prevent court action.

His colleagues disagreed for the moment, wanting time to look into the matter further before making a decision.

The board, three weeks ago voted to approve the land taking as provided at town meeting, approving an offer of $67,000 for the Axelrod property along with the $740 for the Forbes land.

At one time, the sources of certain radio pulses, known now as pulsars, were nicknamed "LGMs" for "Little Green Men," says the Hayden Planetarium of Boston's Museum of Science. Spaced so evenly apart that their precision compares with the best atomic clocks on earth, the signals were thought by some astronomers to be messages from "someone out there!"

areas involving the youth of the United States.

In order to learn first-hand the educational philosophy and methods of Dr. Kurt Hahn, founder of Outward Bound, Miner traveled to Scotland in 1950 to serve on the faculty of the internationally famous Gordonstoun School.

During his stay there, Miner served as an instructor in physics and Director of Activities for the school. Dr. Hahn, founding headmaster of the school, became a close friend of Miner's, and Miner soon became a firm believer in experiential education.

Miner returned to the United States two years later with full intentions of starting an American involvement with Outward Bound.

Creating American Outward Bound took several years of frustrating work. People had to be convinced of the values of experiential education (now referred to as "affective education") and money had to be raised.

In 1962, Josh Miner finally had the chance to put his knowledge to work. In that year he started and directed the Colorado Outward Bound School. The entire enrollment for 1962 was 80 students -- and the budget was $24,000.

Today there are five Outward Bound Schools and an Outward Bound Center in the United States in addition to a national executive office in Andover. By the end of 1970, more than 13,000 students will have participated in Outward Bound programs across the country. Under Miner's direction, the American Outward Bound movement is growing at a fast rate. Two new schools are planned for 1971, and the growth rate continues to expand.

After serving as a Battery Commander of an armored artillery battalion in Patton's Third Army, Miner returned to the United States graduating from Princeton in 1947. Before his sabbatical to Gordonstoun, he became the assistant headmaster of the Hun School in Princeton, New Jersey. Returning from Scotland, Miner became an instructor in physics and later the director of admissions for Phillips Academy. He is a former consultant on urban affairs to the Peace Corps and the Ford Foundation. He is also a former member of the State Advisory Committee for the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Asked about his deep involvement with the education of America's young people, Miner said, "I am determined to make the Outward Bound philosophy as much an integral part of the education process as possible. The ingestion of information simply must be balanced with an experiential dimension--and it is this dimension which, in my mind, has been conspicuous by its absence from the traditional concerns of education."

Josh Miner has lived in Andover for the past 18 years. He and his wife Phebe have five children and reside at 42 School St.

OBSERVANCE

the Fourth of July funds for 1971, rather than having two observances.

Selectmen Sidney P. White and William Stewart both felt the observances should be separate, both having different significance.

Selectman Roger W. Collins said he thought Heseltine had a sensible suggestion and moved that two committees be formed, asking the Service club to again conduct the Fourth program utilizing their experience of this year.

The motion was finally approved, with the proviso that a 325th anniversary committee also be formed and that both groups get together with the idea of having possibly a single weekend observance of both celebrations.

to the possibility of falling brick.

Selectman Sidney P. White Monday night asked the manager to see if some steps could be taken to put some planks against the side of the building since it appears now that the walls are buckling.

It was noted that one of the workmen from the crane company had commented that he observed the walls buckling, and loose bricks.

Asked by Selectman William Stewart what steps could be taken, Town Manager Austin said "we are a country disposed to protecting property rights, so we must examine legal avenues."

Selectman Roger W. Collins asked the manager to see if the town has a legal right to order condemnation of the building.

As for the store owners and office owners who have been out of business for over a month, the manager said that while local officials have compassion for them, there is no legal methods to assist them.

The building inspector will not permit entrance to the building, until necessary repairs are made, the manager said.

Austin said that he anticipated action by the first of the week, allowing counsel to lay the groundwork for whatever legal steps may be necessary.

FIRE STATION

and William Stewart felt the town had issued a mandate for demolition of the building once it is abandoned by the fire department. White however, felt that possibly it could be used on a trial basis.

Stewart did not feel that the station was a place for such activity.

Selectman Roger W. Collins felt that the majority of the board would go along with the idea on a temporary basis but expressed concern about noise and safety.

Collins noted that it being summer, windows would necessarily have to be left open and noise from the building could be disturbing to the neighbors.

Bartow and Carroll felt that this could be controlled.

The board unanimously voted to allow the use on a trial basis under the direction of the town manager, Bartow and Carroll. Use will cease with the opening of school in September.

The fire department is expected to vacate the building within the next two weeks.

A beach umbrella is vital summer equipment, says the American Cancer Society. Prolonged exposure to the sun can result in skin cancer.

Avoid excess sun. These three words, says the American Cancer Society, sum up prevention of skin cancer. If exposure to the sun can't be helped, use a screening lotion or wear a hat and long-sleeved shirt.

The certificate was for his work at the Cape Kennedy Space Center where Mr. LaTorre was the former Health administrator for the center.

Named At Northeastern

A former Cape Kennedy health administrator has been appointed director of environmental health of Northeastern University in Boston.

Philip LaTorre, 40, of 17 Strawberry Hill Road, was named to the specialist post by Dr. Asa S. Knowles, president of Northeastern University.

"Mr. LaTorre will work closely with the university health services, housing and buildings departments in administering engineering technology on the control of chemical, radiological and biological hazards within the university environment," Dr. Knowles said in announcing the appointment.

Mr. LaTorre served as the manager of the environmental health engineering program for the Kennedy Space Center in Florida from 1966 to the present.

He was responsible for the planning and administering of a broad environmental health program for all scientists, astronauts and maintenance crews at the huge center.

A 1952 chemical engineering graduate of Northeastern and a 1954 masters graduate of Harvard University, Mr. LaTorre was chief industrial health and safety officer for the U.S. Army Materials Research Agency at the Watertown Arsenal from 1960 to 1966.

He also spent a year in 1959 with the Raytheon Corporation as the corporate hygienist at the Lexington office.

Forest Roads To Be Resurfaced

Work began this week on resurfacing of roads in the Harold Parker State Forest.

Several roadways in bad disrepair, were to be resurfaced under a contract awarded by the department of natural resources.

Residents of the area have been complaining about conditions there for several months, noting several deep ruts, large stones and other items making passage difficult, particularly in inclement weather.

Rep. Paul W. Cronin appealed to Commissioner of Natural Resources Arthur Brownell recently for action, along with local officials.

Brownell announced last week that a contract had been awarded to Warren Brothers, Inc., of Saugus for the resurfacing work and that construction was expected to begin this week.

The low bid for the project was $15,130.

Editorial Comment

Home

Perhaps we're old fashioned, but there was always a time when being at home was in vogue.

Monday night, as an appeal was made to the selectmen for use of the Central fire station as a drop-in center for youths, a time limit of 10 p.m. was set.

A young man asked that the limit be set at 11 p.m., since "the young people have no place to go between 10 and 11 p.m. and, thus hang around sandwich shops and the center of town."

Well, quite frankly, and we understand that the selectmen probably could not give this advice, our answer would have been, "Why don't you go home."

We live in times of great affluence.

Parents have provided magnificent home entertainment centers, through playrooms, television, stereo, radio, etc.

How come the public must continue to provide centers for the youth of the community?

We feel that the youth programs initiated in this community are good. Those who have been in charge have performed exemplary tasks in supervising the activities.

We are not in complete disagreement with the thoughts of the young people who want to create this drop-in center.

Our question is, one might presume, what does young America want from the adult, or parental community?

There are opportunities galore for the young today. Camps, trips, many have cars, baseball, basketball clinics, etc., yet they seem to want more.

All of this cajoling to youthful demands, leads to an adolescent lack of appreciation for what working for a living, for striving to attain a goal, really means.

The growing up process is difficult, but millions have made it successfully.

The lateness of hours leads to the drugs, to the temptation of alcohol, to the possible troublesome affection of a boy for a girl and vice versa.

Home is a nice place to be.

It's been said for years that "home is where the heart is."

The adrenalin from that heart should be pumping a steady pulse of a happy family life, filled for the youth therein with the hope of accomplishment, not that of having everything handed to them on a silver platter.

Offices

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Supt. of Schools Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert have gone through preliminary discussions on the need for additional office space in the community.

Their approach seems most sensible, since it is aimed primarily at saving money.

The school department, in need of administrative offices, will utilize the Stowe school, temporarily.

It is a structurally sound building from all appearances and can continue to be utilized at least for offices.

Secondary school construction planning is in the offing, and will be subject of town meeting action in October.

While plans are not firm, it would appear that at some time in the future, the East Junior High school will be phased out as an educational facility.

While this is a matter that is conjectural at the moment, certainly the building would appear most adaptable to municipal office complex, housing all administrative facilities for the town and school departments.

The town manager feels that all alternatives must be looked at before any further new town hall proposals are considered.

Among them is possible use of the Central fire station, which could house computers, etc.

While town meeting has provided funds for demolition of this structure, it might be assumed that the taxpayers may well rescind that vote if it is found the building could still be utilized as a municipal facility.

Such thoughts are good.

Too long have we squandered municipal structures because they were felt no longer useable.

Too long have we built modern architectural triumphs, while tearing down well structured buildings, serviceable through renovation.

The thinking of the town's two top administrators certainly is heartwarming from a taxpayer's point of view.

Finally

After considerable time and effort on the part of local and state officials, some repairs are being made to roads in the Harold Parker State Forest.

Neglected for many years, this state property became hazardous to public travel, although the area is open to the public.

There are year-round residents residing in the forest who must make daily travel over these roads.

The conditions of the thoroughfares has led to blown tires, broken springs, etc.

For several months there have been pleas to state authorities to make repairs.

Finally, within recent days, action has been taken, a contract awarded and some construction started.

The forest area is far from a seasonal recreation spot.

It is a permanent residence for many people, who along with tourists, admire the beauty and the natural resources.

We would hope that the state authorities would take cognizance of this and keep an eye on the maintenance of the area.

Andover is getting experienced teachers to replace those who have left or to fill the vacancies created by new positions.

Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, superintendent of schools, recently informed the school committee that the average salary of new appointees is $8,400, which indicates that there are not too many first year, or non-experienced people.

The starting salary for a teacher in Andover is $7,200.

The $8,400 average would indicate that most of the new people coming into the system here for the first time in September, carry with them considerable experience, based on degrees earned and years of service in other communities.

Utility companies seem to have a penchant for digging up streets, not just in Andover but all over.

Seems everywhere you go, either the gas, electric or telephone companies are "underground," making repairs or new installations.

Wish there could be some co-ordination to avoid the inconvenience, since the companies do properly restore the roadways in most cases.

Found something beneficial about mini-skirts this past week.

Seems medical authorities find them to be beneficial toward avoiding back trouble.

The delicateness with which the female must bend to pick up something, while adorned in a mini-skirt, causes her to inch toward the item in a proper manner, thus avoiding throwing out her back.

All this may be very well for the female of the species, but it sure is raising havoc with the male vision.

The peace symbol which has been carried around on picket signs and even appeared on mortar boards at graduation ceremonies, has actually been around for a long time.

It can be seen atop the entrance to Lawrence City Hall, although it has a different meaning.

The inverted Y as carried by the peace marchers today is believed to have come from England following a protest of some sort some time ago.

The inverted Y with the extended stem, appearing in Lawrence was a symbol of an anniversary of the city a half century ago and indicates the conjuncture of the Shawshen and Spicket Rivers with the Merrimack in Lawrence.

One of four men who have won the Indianapolis 500 three times, the most for any participant, once appeared in an automobile race on a wooden track at Rockingham Park, Salem, N.H. (You're not wearing bell bottom trousers if you remember that.)

Louis Meyer won the Indy in 1928, 1933 and 1936 and once appeared at the Salem, N.H. track.

Other three time winners and record holders are Wilbur Shaw, Mauri Rose and A. J. Foyt.

Among interesting items the government is listing as for sale in the Department of Defense Sale 16-1005.

It advertises two yachts, one 94-foot and one 64-foot, "used extensively as a Presidential yacht."

President Nixon put the two ships up for sale, "The Patricia" and "The Julie," in an economy move.

Both have been called by other names, such as Patrick J., during Presidents Johnson and Kennedy, Honey Fitz, during the Kennedy years, Susie E. and Barbara Ann during the Eisenhower administration and Margaret T. in the Truman years.

The $50 a day docking fees and the $1,000,000 purchase price is not finding a ready market.

Donate $9,854 To Heart Fund

Maurice K. Laurence, M.D., President of the Northeast Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association, announced today that the 1970 Heart Fund Campaign results in Andover totaled $9,854.65.

"The superb efforts of Mrs. Theresa Manzi Amore the Andover 1970 Heart Fund General Chairman and her fine committee deserve special recognition, and I, on behalf of the board of directors of the Northeast Chapter, congratulate them for their excellent results," stated Dr. Laurence.

"The splendid response of the people of Andover to the 1970 Heart Fund appeal," declared Dr. Laurence, "is dramatic evidence that they understand the seriousness of the heart problem."

"It also demonstrates their strong conviction that the Heart Association's 3 prong program of research, education and community service is the most effective way to combat and eventually control this leading health menace," he added.

Marum - Krathwohl

Lisa Claire Krathwohl, daughter of Mrs. Carlton L. Krathwohl and the late Dr. Krathwohl, of Good Hope Farms, Mechanicsburg, Pa., became the bride of Andrew William Marum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Marum, of Andover at an 8 p.m. ceremony in Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Given in marriage by her brother, Eric J. Krathwohl, the bride wore a voile gown, trimmed with rose point lace. A daisy headpiece held her veil. She carried a bouquet of daisies and baby's breath.

Kristen M. Krathwohl was the maid of honor and wore a gown of blue voile with a daisy headpiece.

Fortune R. Ryan of New York City, N.Y., was the best man, with Richard Lord and Kenneth Wald, both of New York, serving as ushers.

Following a wedding trip to the British Isles, where the bridegroom has a grant to study at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, the couple will reside in New York City.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High school, Midland, Mich., and the Indiana University School of Music, Bloomington, Ind. She is a flutist with the Harrisburg Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Marum is a graduate of Proctor Academy, Andover, N.H., Bard College, Annandale-On-The-Hudson, N.Y. and received a Master's degree from Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind. He is continuing his studies at Columbia University.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Greenberg announce the marriage of their daughter Eve Diane to Arthur R. Dufault, son of Mrs. Marjorie Atwood and Arthur Dufault, on July 9.

After a short honeymoon, they are residing in Andover, while Mr. Dufault continues his education at Lowell Tech.

If you don't think air pollution is a problem, think how much harder it is on your heart and lungs. Your heart alone dilates under average conditions at the rate of 72 times a minute, 100,000 times a day, 40,000,000 times a year, says the Massachusetts Medical Society.

Coronary Care Unit Approved

The Merrimack Valley Health Planning Council, Inc. has approved the application of the Amesbury Hospital to operate an Intensive Care - Coronary Care Unit. The announcement was made recently by Atty. Richard K. Donahue of Lowell, chairman of the board of trustees of the council.

The opening of the unit was first proposed by the hospital in November 1969. Approval had been deferred by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health until an official health planning agency had been designated for the region, and until that agency had reviewed the application. The Merrimack Valley Council received official designation on June 1. On June 15 the Department of Public Health submitted the Amesbury Hospital application to the Council, leading to the action announced recently.

The Intensive Care Unit will be operated by the hospital for "serious, life threatening medical and surgical patients". The Coronary Care Unit is designed for patients with "proven or strongly suspected fresh coronary attacks". Both units, of two beds each, are immediately adjacent to a nursing station which will be staffed at all times by Registered Nurses who have received special training in the operation of intensive and coronary care units. The acting director of the unit is Dr. James F. Whitten of Amesbury.

The nearly extinct gray whales, 45 feet long and 30 tons, migrate from the Bering Sea to Baja California, a 4-month, 6,000-mile journey, passing San Diego December 22-27. A treaty signed in 1938 by Canada, Mexico, U.S.S.R. and U.S.A. prohibits killing these whales.

Drownings Averted By Caution

Over 60 percent of the drownings each year result when people who have no intention of getting wet fall into the water from docks, boats, bridges, shores or pool decks. Frequently they are only a few feet from safety, the American Red Cross reports.

A majority of the remaining 40 percent drown while playing or swimming in the water, again many of them almost within reaching distance of safety. "Most drownings result because people violate or ignore good water safety practices," states Cliff E. Lundberg, Eastern Area director of Red Cross safety programs. "Drownings can be reduced if people will learn to swim and develop skill and knowledge that will contribute to safety in, on and around the water."

The home pool drowning rate is highest among children under four. Therefore, home pool owners should take particular precautions around the pool site.

Mrs. James Christopher, chairman of water safety for the Andover Red Cross urges parents to register their young people for swimming classes, taught by qualified Red Cross instructors at either the YMCA or Pomp's Pond. There are also classes for adults.

Specific details are available at either of the above locations. Safety should be everyone's concern and the opportunity to learn the skills is provided by the Andover Red Cross.

Tillson Heads Claim Division

Walter G. Tillson has been named regional supervisor in the claim department at the Andover casualty and surety division office of Aetna Life and Casualty.

Tillson, a graduate of Boston University, joined Aetna at Wakefield in 1957 and was promoted to claim supervisor at Reading in 1968. He lives at 2 Birchwood Terrace, Groveland.

Miss Vail To Continue Study

Sharon Ann Vail graduated Cum Laude from the University of Buffalo on May 29, where she received her Bachelor of Arts degree in English. She was on the Dean's list for four years, Choral Group four years, Resident Advisor, junior and senior years, and was on the Faculty-Student Advisory and Finance Committee for two years.

Miss Vail has received and accepted a full fellowship and will enter the University of Binghamton, Vestal, N.Y. in September to work for her Doctorate. She plans to teach at the college level.

Sharon is the daughter of Raymond W. and Constance (O'Connor) Vail of Massapequa, L.I., N.Y., and the granddaughter of Mrs. Leo V. O'Connor of Andover.

Come See Our New Belvedere Cars.

Plymouth makes it for 1970 in the beautiful Belvedere cars shown above. See these sleek new models on display in the showroom at Clark Motor Company, 273 South Union Street in Lawrence. Stop in any time for a test drive in any of the new 1970 Chryslers and Plymouths in their complete collection. You will like the prices at Clark Motors and you can make your financial arrangement right on the spot. You are invited to bring your family in and look over the exciting new Sport Fury 2-door hardtops, 4-door hardtops, 4-door sedans, the Fury III 2-door formal hardtop or the Fury III convertible. Or perhaps you'll be interested in the new Belvedere Sport Satellite; the Satellite 4-door sedan, an economical car for the family on the move; or the Belvedere Coupe. In the Barracuda, only the name is the same. See the Barracuda Gran Coupe, in one of three brand new models.

The Valiant Duster Coupe is a brand new Plymouth. It's big enough, but small enough. Under that sporty exterior, Duster has room for five and features a real rear seat, for adults. Clark Motors is also showing a full line of Fury and Belvedere wagons, the wagon lover's wagon and a "must" for suburban living.

Perhaps you're planning to make your next car a Chrysler or Imperial. You expect a luxury car to be unusually accommodating and even with this in mind, Imperial LeBaron offers some pleasant surprises. The ride is noticeably different from other luxury cars, especially at highway speeds.

All Chrysler Corporation cars carry a five-year or 50,000 mile guarantee. This new car guarantee will be maintained by Clark Motors' expert service department to assure you many years of top automotive performance.

The competent salesmen at Clark Motors are on hand to serve you, answer your questions, show you both new and used models, and talk about a trade any day Monday through Friday from nine to nine, Saturdays from nine to five. For further information, call them at 688-6053.

Marvelous Location - Central Andover

Move into this freshly painted Colonial house - the rooms are sunny and nicely decorated.

On one side the gracious center hall leads to a large living room, porch and study; on the other, to a lovely dining room with bay window. Well-equipped kitchen and a half bath.

Upstairs there is a master bedroom with its own bath and a smaller room that could be a nursery or a study; three other cheerful bedrooms and bath.

The landscaped yard with terraced gardens in the back help to make this a very desirable home for the most discriminating family.

TOP AWARD. Thomas Sirois, center, receives the Scholar-Athlete award from Bernard Solomon, former president of the Northeastern University Varsity club. Ernie Mills, Northeastern Track club president looks on. Sirois received the award in recognition of his track accomplishments, along with scholastic achievement.

Sirois Lauded For Activity

Thomas Sirois, 172 River Road, recently concluded his second year of varsity track competition by receiving the Scholar-Athlete Award from Bernard Solomon, former president of the Northeastern Varsity Club, and Ernie Mills, N.U. Track Club president.

A Dean's list student, Sirois hurled the 35-lb. weight indoors, and the hammer outside. During the winter season, he was the team's leading point totaler, as he tallied for 65 in overall competition. He won the event seven times in dual meets, and hi-lighted N.U.'s indoor season by capturing the IC4A title in that event, and placed among the top six at the NCAA Indoor Championships in Detroit, Mich.

Outdoors, Sirois helped the team to an undefeated (7-0) season in dual competition, a win in the Boston College Relays, a second in the Greater Boston Championships, and a third in the New England Championships. He capped off his junior year by placing third in the hammer at the U.S. Track and Field Federation Championships.

Sirois will keep active this fall as a member of the N.U. football team.

Correction

Identification of a photo in the July 9 issue of the TOWNSMAN, was in error. It identified an Andover man who has begun the practice of dermatology as Dr. Harold S. Goldberg, when it should have read Dr. Howard S. Goldberg.

Punchard High school was established in 1902.

Spring Term At C.D.A. Cookout YMCA Extensive

A total of 3,086 men, women, boys and girls comprised the actual membership of the Andover branch of the Greater Lawrence YMCA on June 30 according to the quarterly report submitted by Executive Director Richard P. Cate to the Andover YMCA board of directors.

The April - June Spring term program was reported as the most extensive yet produced in any one term by the relatively new Andover association. 129 courses were conducted involving 1,337 class sessions. Total enrollment was 2,388 and term total for attendance reached 21,080.

Featuring the spring offerings were, in addition to the usual on-going programs, nine golf courses which enrolled 73 individuals, eight water safety courses of junior life saving level or above which enrolled 220 individuals, 16 tennis courses which enrolled 291 individuals. Other new programs included horseback riding, bird watching, landscaping, intermediate bridge, clay and papier mache.

main reading room. The Andover Fly Fishers Assoc. has been helpful in building up the collection on the sport of fishing. Three of the titles selected by the club as gifts to the library are: Practical Fly-Tying by Thomas Rice Henn; Fly-Tying And Fly Fishing For Bass And Panfish by Tom Nixon; The Treasury Of Angling by L. R. Koller. These and other titles selected to help you land the big ones are available now. The library also has some helpful pamphlets: Massachusetts Fish and Game Laws, 1970; Sportsman's Guide to Cape Cod-Fresh and Salt-water Fishing; Stocked Trout Waters of Massachusetts, 1970.

Honored For Service At IRS

Three Andover residents were presented Career Government Service Awards Tuesday at the Internal Revenue Service Center, Andover.

Director Frank L. Browitt presented a 30-year award to Arthur F. Rush, 12 Downing Road. Service Awards for 20-years were given Vernon C. Neikirk, 18 Kathleen Drive and Robert J. Tarmey, 33 Essex St.
